REMARKS: Philip A. Sanyang maintained a good record of attendance and punctuality during his stay at the afore-mentioned school. He was always part of the student councillors and ultimately played an integral part in the welfare, guidance and counselling of students. He is an honours student and this coupled with hard work and diligence has gained him regular promotion. He is quite attentive and shows keen interest in his work. He participated in some subject discussions, quiz competitions and research.

He is a respectful, committed and quiet student. He mixes quite well with his peers in school. His conduct has never been a cause for any disciplinary redress. Philip A. Sanyang is maturing into a well disposed young man.

While in St. John Vianney, he was the President of the Press Club and played an active role in the clubs research. Philip is responsible, industrious and capable of rendering satisfactory services to his future employer.

He is highly recommended for further studies or any institution that may need his invaluable service.
